CALL FOR PAPERS

2020 Annual conference

“What to regulate? How to regulate? Who should regulate?”

The Italian Society affiliated to the European Society for Banking and Financial Law invites its members and, more generally, scholars of banking and financial law and the economics of financial intermediaries to present research work at the 2020 Annual Conference, "What to regulate? How to regulate? Who should regulate?", organized in collaboration with the Milan Branch of the Bank of Italy and the Faculty of Banking, Financial and Insurance Sciences of the Catholic University of the Sacred Heart, which will take place on 20 November 2020, at the Milan Branch of the Bank of Italy, or online if the conditions will not allow physical meetings.

Legal and economic scientific works on the following subjects will be taken into consideration:

- Securitisation and management of impaired loans of banks and financial intermediaries
- Outsourcing
- Capital markets
- Shadow banking system
- Financial sector regulation policies and techniques.

The purpose of the Call for Papers is to encourage the submission of works - of a critical or empirical nature and not simply of a descriptive nature - that aspire to be the subject of presentation and discussion at the Conference.

The deadlines are as follows:

- by 20 September 2020: submission of the abstract as an attachment to an email (to aedbf.segreteria@gmail.com) in order to submit it to a peer review; the abstract must be at least 3000 characters long and contain a brief description of the subject of the paper and the issues that the author intends to address;

- by 5 October 2020: communication of admission to the AEDBF Annual Conference;
- by 5 November 2020: sending the complete paper by the same means and to the same address.

For the purposes of admission, works in both Italian and English languages will be considered.

In the case of contributions involving more than one author, the identification of a corresponding author is required to identify the author in charge of the submission of abstracts and papers. Any communication from AEDBF (acceptance, rejection of the paper, etc.) will be addressed to such author only.

In the hope of a wide and widespread response to our Call, we extend to all our warmest greetings and best wishes for a good job.

Milan, 3 July 2020.
